Headline:
Wet and windy tonight. Some sunny spells Monday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Very gradually becoming milder from the west through the night, but tempered by rain and strong winds. Perhaps drier but rather cloudy and murky in western parts into daybreak. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Monday:
Rain soon clearing east, followed by low cloud, mist and patchy drizzle for a time though improving from the west to become dry with occasional sunshine. Noticeably milder. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Much milder than of late, but changeable and often rather windy, with some rain possible on all days of the period. Probably brightest on Wednesday, with some sunny spells.
